[...] Propped by her snowy hand her head reclined, Her curling locks hung waving in the wind. She eyes intent the consecrated green, Crowded with waving clubs and votaries keen, And hears the prayers of youths to her addressed, And from the hollow face relieves the ball distressed. On either side the sprightly Dryads sat, And entertained the Goddess with their chat. First Verdurilla, thus: O rural Queen! What chiefs are those that drive along the green? [...] .
